

DTN MOBILE®

Real-time trading information for people on the move

Get the information you need to be more profitable while on the go

Never miss an opportunity while away from the office. DTN Mobile provides real-time access to the time-critical market quotes, news, and weather information you need to make important trading decisions via today's popular mobile devices. Whether traveling, in a meeting, or at lunch, you'll never be out of touch with the markets again.

A true companion to DTN ProphetX®, DTN Mobile provides the time-critical information you'd normally receive at your desk.

Your eye on the markets

Stay on top of changing markets with fast access to the cleanest market data available — anywhere you go. Even the smallest market changes can make for big gains and losses. Create your own multiple watch lists to track real-time commodity, equity, and option prices directly from your mobile device. You can also view charts for an at-a-glance view of how the latest prices correlate with current market trends. Use the new market alerts to instantly send an email or text when your price target is met.

Market-moving news

Never be out of the loop when it comes to news that will influence the market and impact your strategy. Receive U.S. and world news, as well as agricultural and energy-focused stories about events that shape trends and affect prices.

Real-time weather

Access weather information that can influence your trading decisions. DTN Mobile delivers agricultural and energy weather forecasts, current conditions, and warnings generated by DTN's highly-respected, industry-leading meteorologists. Set alerts to warn you of approaching storms or critical, marketing-impacting weather via email or text.

Easy setup and easy to use

Our easy-to-read format provides access to key information on the go. With one click, you'll receive all of the information you've come to expect from DTN, delivered directly to your mobile device — including market prices, news, and weather in a format that's easy to follow and customized for you.

Low-cost start up with no additional, expensive equipment to buy, DTN Mobile works on the mobile devices you already own. If you have a wireless Web service, you'll be ready to receive the latest information from DTN — all without any complicated device-specific configurations or additional equipment to buy.

The DTN Mobile difference

With its easy-to-use format, convenience, and real-time market, news, and weather information, DTN Mobile is the latest product offered by DTN — renowned for its outstanding data reliability and accuracy. In today's ever-changing world, can you really afford to be away from the office without the benefits of DTN Mobile?
