

Increasingly, the downstream is becoming more digital. You need tools that fit within your budget. That's why we're creating powerful, affordable solutions like DTN Price Admin.

An easy, cost-efficient way to publish your prices electronically.

DTN Price Admin is our new, affordable way to reliably publish prices electronically. And because it's web-based, multiple members of your team can access it anytime, anywhere—ensuring they can always see critical data.

Input your prices in a variety of ways: upload a spreadsheet, type them in, or enter a move amount to have them auto calculate.

Easily access, enter, adjust, save, and distribute your prices with our pricing console. You also have the freedom to authorize customers at your convenience.

You can send critical messages—such as outage updates, holiday hours, and more—immediately or via delayed distribution.

Real-time data and decision support tools are critical to staying ahead of the fuel selling price curve. DTN is the dominant provider of information technology solutions and aggregated decision support data for the refined fuels supply chain in North America.

www.dtn.com • 800.660.2675