

Take back your time by streamlining the flow of information

Every day, you're bombarded with never-ending notifications. Prices, invoices, EFTs, and more come in every hour by fax and email. Manually organizing and cataloging this data is a time-consuming process. And it's way too easy to lose a critical piece of information. That's why there's DTN DataConnect.

Streamline the flow of information

DTN DataConnect captures and organizes that steady stream of vital supplier data for you. It also delivers industry news, unbiased analysis, and market-moving weather insights to support your best decisions. What's more, you and your team don't have to go looking for the information you need.

- Access all the messages in one, easy-to-manage dashboard
- There's no software to install or update
- Easily create hard copies as needed
- Provides a revolving 90-day archive of historical data
- Delivers secure data transmission

Save time and reduce errors

DTN DataConnect makes it easy to stay informed and in control of your business. It integrates into your infrastructure, so your team doesn't have to go looking for data. It's right where they need it.

- Save time and effort
- Be better organized and informed
- Spend more energy focused on growing your business

Our customer support team is ready and willing to answer any questions you have regarding your information-gathering workflow. We'll make sure you're satisfied. Stay on top of it all and in control by streamlining and automating your incoming messages with DTN Data Connect.