

Purchasing fuel has never been easier or more efficient

Buying fuel in the downstream market is often a notoriously resource-heavy, analog process, characterized by significant inefficiencies around price discovery, order capture, and back-office functions.

To secure the best deals, you need better pricing visibility, the ability to quickly negotiate with multiple suppliers simultaneously, and be able to execute transactions digitally – with just the click of a button, from anywhere. Fuels Marketplace helps you do all of this and more.

It's never been easier to:

- Improve buying efficiencies – increase your volumes and more effectively execute transactions by reducing manual processes and simultaneously negotiating with multiple suppliers.
- Streamline your processes – automatically receive order confirmations from sellers and upload sales orders directly into your ETRM with scalable, cloud-based, back-office integration.
- Quickly reconcile information – reduce accounting errors and processing time with improved workflows that help you validate information from various sources.

Now you can order fuel, negotiate the best prices, arrange delivery, chat with suppliers, and examine purchase reports all in one platform.

“Fuels Marketplace is a really useful tool. It's simple to use, helping us make quick and efficient purchases.”

Patrick Smith, commercial manager, Portland Fuel

Fuels Marketplace for Wholesaler

Seamless back-office integration – significantly reduce administrative tasks by uploading orders directly into your ETRM systems via API integration, plus receive many other timesaving, automated notifications.

User-friendly front end – Fuels Marketplace boasts an easy-to-use dashboard that's accessible via both desktop and mobile devices.

Enhanced price visibility – view live, dynamic pricing, specific to you from multiple suppliers on one convenient dashboard.

Powerful contract management – manage both intraday and fixed-term contracts directly on the platform, enabling you to nominate fuel purchases against existing contracts, simplifying the transaction process.

Detailed, visual reports – more effectively manage contract volumes for each supplier and view remaining volumes for easy management.

Custom branding – make offers and negotiate with multiple sellers quickly and easily via the chat function, dramatically reducing communication burdens for both you and your suppliers.